

Christie Hagerman has been involved in the climbing community for the past four years and recently began coaching youth recreational bouldering this past fall. She is passionate about supporting the involvement of women and queer folk in climbing spaces and pulls from her background in Environmental Management to serve as Secretary for the Board. Her favourite type of climbing is anything with an overhang and her favourite area in the province is Sandy Cove.