

My name is Ti Giffin, I have been in and around the climbing community for many years and am a parent of a competitive climber. I have witnessed the positive impact climbing has on building confidence, resilience, connection, and a strong sense of belonging.

As a Director at Large, I am excited to support the growth of climbing in Nova Scotia and contribute to an inclusive, welcoming community where climbers and families can participate, grow and connect.